State to host Japanese cultural exchange

'AN OPPORTUNITY TO DEEPEN ... FRIENDSHIP'

By Allan Ogawa

ogawa@herald-leader.com

HARRODSBURG — Judy

Agee has lived in and visited

Japan. But come October, it will seem like Japan is visiting her.

She will be among the people in 11 Kentucky cities who will host 150 to 200 people from Japan as part of a large-scale cultural exchange program.

The program, being held

Oct. 23-28, is organized by the John Manjiro/Whitfield

Commemorative Center for International Exchange.

"You can always learn something new about their culture because it's a very old culture, a very deep culture, and I'm always learning something," said Agee, who lived in Japan when her husband was stationed at U.S.

Army Camp Zama.

"Hopefully, I will give them memories that they'll take back and always remember."

Agee is part of the Har-rodsburg host committee that has been coordinating the local events for the exchange program.

The cities that will be hosting families are Lexington, Louisville, Georgetown, Frankfort, Richmond, Berea,

Danville and Harrodsburg, plus an unidentified city or cities in Northern Kentucky.
